

DENISE COREY

Denise is a professional Business Coach with over 2000 logged coaching hours. Denise brings over two decades of experience in finance, start up, and leadership in large and small corporate settings to her coaching. Denise's coaching practice is centered on the challenges facing leaders in the 9-5 world. She works with clients to define set goals, recognize their challenges, leverage their strengths, become aware of blind spots, and consider alternative perspectives.

Denise provides coaching for the University of North Carolina's Kenan Flagler Executive Education Programs, Duke University's Leadership Program, Betterup, Kramer Leadership, and private clients.

Denise received an MBA from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. She graduated from North Carolina State University Business Coaching Program in 2016 and was awarded her Professional Certified Coach (PCC) from the International Coaching Association in 2020. She has also completed courses from Coaches Rising and the University of Toronto.

Kelly Eppley, founder of Appleseed Content Services, says of Denise, "From the start, Denise was easy to trust. She asked the kinds of questions that helped me clarify my needs and vision for my life and career. She listened with laser focus and surprised me sometimes with the depth of her insights. Her advice was equal parts firm and friendly—just what I needed. And her coaching taught me to reframe my thinking, challenge my assumptions, celebrate my strengths, and value my contributions. I'm enjoying higher confidence, a greater sense of connection to colleagues, and a wider view of what my future might hold. I'm so glad I took the chance and called Denise. Her support has made all the difference!"
